

New Mexico Respondents Struggle to Afford Health Care: Selected Results from the Consumer Health Care Experience State Survey (CHESS)

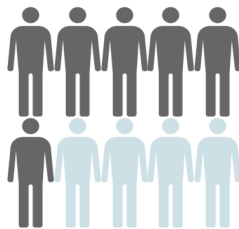

80%

reported being "worried" or "very worried" about affording some aspect of health care in the future.

66%

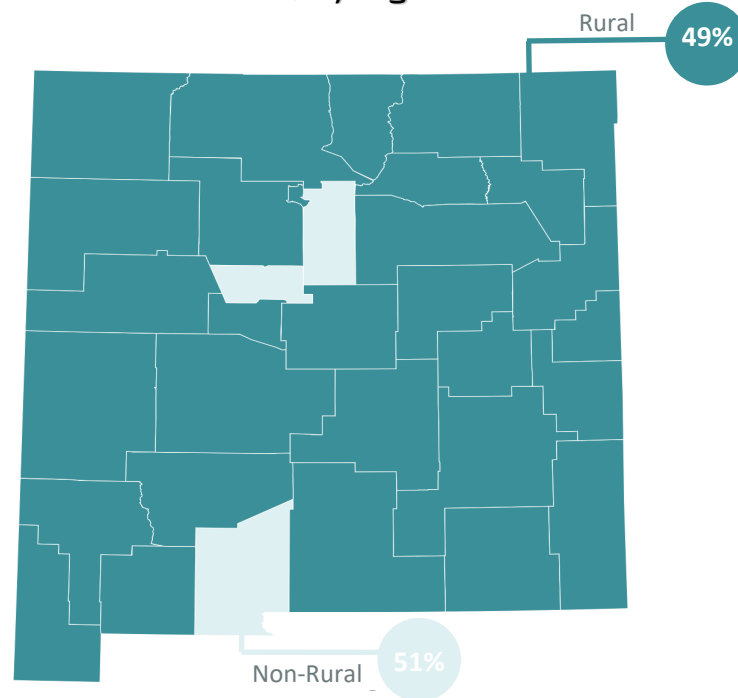

experienced at least one health care affordability burden in the past year.

60%

reported delaying or going without care due to cost in the past twelve months.

Percent who went without care due to cost in the past twelve months, by region

Powered by Bing
© GeoNames, TomTom

91% of respondents said that they believe the government should require drug companies to provide advance notice of price increases and information to justify those increases, including 91% of Republican respondents, 93% of Democrat respondents, and 89% of unaffiliated respondents.

91% of respondents agreed that the government should make it easier to switch insurers if a health plan drops your doctor, including 91% of Republican respondents, 93% of Democrat respondents, and 90% of unaffiliated respondents.

90% of respondents said that they believe the government should set standard prices for drugs to make them affordable, including 88% of Republican respondents, 92% of Democrat respondents, and 89% of unaffiliated respondents.

90% of respondents said that they believe the government should set standard prices for prescription drugs to make them affordable, including 88% of Republican respondents, 92% of Democrat respondents, and 89% of unaffiliated respondents.

90% of respondents said that they believe the government should ensure patients can't be charged out-of-network prices if they encounter an out-of-network provider through no fault of their own, including 90% of Republican respondents, 93% of Democrat respondents, and 85% of unaffiliated respondents.